Please amend claim 5 as follows:

5. (Amended) A method for manufacture of a polyolefin article comprising:
selecting an oriented polyolefin material having a value of not exceeding 5×10^{-5} (/°C) for average coefficient of linear expansion in the 20 - 80 °C range; depositing a peroxide, combined with a low-molecular compound polymerizable monomer capable of dissolving polyolefin, on a surface of the oriented polyolefin material; and bonding said oriented polyolefin material to a second polyolefin material by the application of pressure and heat, thereby manufacturing a polyolefin article.
